SUBJ: By-Laws of the Commission for Territorial Studies

DESTROY AFTER USE

Enclosed are three copies of the by-laws and work plan of the commission to study the territorial problems of Honduras. The two principal tasks of the commission are to study the boundary questions which are pending with both Nicaragua and El Salvador and to recommend a course of action to the Government. So far the commission, which has been in existence for more than six months, has been inactive. The committee met daily for about two weeks last winter, but since funds have been unavailable for needed equipment, nothing has been accomplished during recent months. Enthusiasm has cooled as the border incident with El Salvador of last December has receded into the background.
